Verification of Independence

One of ACG's core principles is the importance of independent, third party commissioning. Therefore, ACG will verify that the applicant's current employer is an independent commissioning company.

ACG defines an independent commissioning company as one that provides independent commissioning services in accordance with the ACG Commissioning Guideline, and does not also provide services that present conflicts of interest, such as manufacturing of equipment or system components, installation or other contracting, construction, or others that could affect the ability of the applicant to render an objective commissioning report.

If you change employers during the CxA application and testing process, during the certification cycle, or at any point in the future, you are required to notify the CxA Certification Department so independence can be re-verified.

- I attest that my current employer is an independent commissioning company, is not an equipment manufacturer, installer, contractor, etc. and is free from potential conflict of interest. This will be verified by ACG.

Request for Accommodations

The CxA Certification Council will provide reasonable and appropriate accommodations in accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) for individuals with documented disabilities who request and demonstrate the need for accommodation. Please refer to the Accommodations policy in the Candidate Handbook.

Candidates requesting special accommodations must submit the Request for Exam Accommodations form so it is received by the ACG Certification Department at least 30 days prior to the examination date.

- I am requesting an accommodation and I am attaching the completed Request for Accommodations form to this application.

Exam Location

Once approved for testing, candidates will receive a confirmation message from ACG confirming the date, time, and location of the exam. Exams scheduled at an ACG event are administered via paper and pencil.
